DEVELOPING SOLUTIONS FOR A HEALTHIER AND GREENER WORLD

Dear Darren

This is great news going forward with your new disposable endoscope, good luck with your funding

As this will add greatly to revolutionise the treatment of cancers and other medical procedures and will help with the depositing of SingloTex™ into cancerous tumours and other areas where needed.

We look forward to working closer on promoting your device with our technological breakthrough molecule SingloTex together making a leap forward in medical science. This could not only save more lives but also to save energy and resources such as water. We look forward to seeing singlotex incorporated into the body of the instrument keep it sterile.

I will give you every assistance in developing this to end product.

Kind Regards

Guy Eatch
